After attending both of the fall 1995 vice presidential dinners described above, the Oneida contributed an additional $30,000 to the DNC on March 28, 1996, raising its six-month giving total to $50,000 and qualifying it as a DNC trustee. Based on this giving record, the DNC made Oneida Chairwoman Deborah Doxtator co-chairwoman of a March 26 luncheon honoring Vice President Gore in Milwaukee.⁵⁹⁴ Thomann organized this event and was credited by the ⁵⁹³Within a ten day period, a number of persons associated with the tribe made individual contributions to this fund totaling the amount noted in this line.

⁵⁹⁴Tribal Legislative Director William Gollnick also knew in advance of the contribution that it would assure Doxtator's participation in a coffee with President Clinton on March 28, which Gollnick described in a March 26 memo seeking approval of the contribution as "a closed door meeting for our Chairwoman with President Clinton and a group of approximately 10 other
